INTRODUCTION

The Index of Online Dissertations & Theses @ Polytechnic University of Puerto Rico 2010-2020 is a guide to the work presented by graduate students at the Polytechnic University of Puerto Rico (PUPR), San Juan Campus as a requirement for their degree. The purpose is to collect, disseminate and provide access to these works and expand the availability of resources for the study and research of the academic and scientific community.

The index can be accessed by author, year, study program and subject according to the Subjects Heading of the Library of Congress. Endnote 9X was used to create the database to organize the information.

Theses and design projects from 2001 to 2009 are available in paper/print format in the Special Collections and Historical Archives area of the library 2nd floor.

From 2010 onwards, works are available online in full text PDF accessing the "PROQUEST - DISSERTATION & THESIS @ UNIVERSIDAD POLITÉCNICA DE PUERTO RICO" database at the Library databases webpage:

<https://www.pupr.edu/library/databases/> .

For more information, contact the library staff at (787) 622-8000, ext. 266, 444 or write to the following address: referencistas@pupr.edu.
